ERP SYSTEMS

Single and integrated system
Improved access to information
Reduction in costs of inventory
Improved ROI
Uniform processes based on best practices
Support strategic planning
Automation of manual processes

Dimpi Srivastava
Aarti Batra

| 2010 | 306 pp | Paperback | ISBN: 9789380578149 | Pr |

About the Book

ERP is an industry term used for integrated multiple-modules application software package, especially, designed to give support to specific business processes of any organization. ERP systems have revolutionized the working of departments across an organization onto a single computer. There is a growing emphasis on the development and implementation of ERP systems in organizations as business requirements are fast changing due to increasing cc must be seamlessly integrated with the organizational culture of any organization. This integration will serve to meet the growing competitive requirements of the organization.

The book focuses on various aspects of ERP systems that today serve as a central backbone for an organization. The book covers the need for ERP system, its evolution, ERP market and a detailed description of various ERP me issues, role of vendors and consultants in ERP implementation, future trends, learning and emerging issues.

Table of Contents

‣ An Introduction to ERP
‣ ERP Life Cycle
‣ ERP Market
‣ ERP Modules
‣ Framework for Evaluating ERP Acquisition
‣ Analytical Hierarchy Process
‣ ERP Implementation
‣ Soft System Approach
‣ ERP and Related Technologies
‣ ERP—A Manufacturing Perspective
‣ Learning and Emerging Issues
‣ References
‣ Index

About the Author

Dimpi Srivastava :- has more than five years of experience in academics. Her research interests are in areas of sensor networks, intelligent system, robotics, e-education and e-governance. She has attended various national ar research papers in various national and international level conferences. She is also working as an active member of International Association of Engineers (IAENG). She is associated with Madurai Kamraj University as a research has more than three years of experience in academics and industry. Her research interest are in areas such as object oriented programming, data structures, Java, client server and ambient intelligence. She has published a number of papers in vari

Aarti Batra :-